

Bungaban Renewable Energy Farm

Project consultation and engagement overview

Windlab has actively engaged with key stakeholders about the Bungaban Renewable Energy Farm since late 2022. This has involved targeted consultation with local Councils and Traditional Owner groups, as well as broader engagement with industry organisations, community groups and communities surrounding the project footprint.

The below table summarises the key stakeholder consultation events and issues raised during initial project development.

It's important to note that this table offers a concise overview and doesn't encompass all engagement activities or interactions. Additionally, any culturally or commercially sensitive information, such as discussions with host landholders, has been excluded to respect stakeholder privacy.
